FIELD JOIN COATING 2014

2-4 September 2014, Radisson Blu Scandinavia Hotel, Düsseldorf, Germany

AMI is pleased to invite you to attend the international Field Joint Coating 2014 conference, which will take place from 2-4 September in the city of Düsseldorf, Germany. The conference will focus on the latest developments and innovations in materials, products and technologies applied in field joint coating and other types of field-applied coatings for steel pipelines. The event starts on September 2nd with an evening welcome drinks reception and exhibition, followed by a 2-day conference programme and accompanying exhibition.

This new event builds on the success of AMI's Pipeline Coating conference, the 6th annual edition was attended by a record number of participants coming from all corners of the globe and representing the entire supply chain. Many participants have mentioned that, while the Pipeline Coating conference covers comprehensively plantapplied coatings, there is space for a dedicated conference focusing on field-applied pipeline coatings, which are technologically different and face a specific array of challenges. This is an area in which a multitude of materials, products and technologies compete to provide solutions for such diverse challenges. The factory coating process can be flawless, but this needs to be matched by the field joint coating and there are numerous developments in this area. There is, therefore, a need for industry cross-fertilisation, discussion and debate in order to better understand the issues, agree on industry-wide requirements and disseminate knowledge regarding the optimal solutions.

The conference will bring together pipeline owners and operators, contractors, coating experts worldwide, test institutes, as well as suppliers of materials, products and equipment.

Why not join the debate and develop your network of contacts while reviewing the latest hot topics in this technologically and commercially complex business?
